A LOOK AT THE OUTSIDE WORLD

There are so many events that shape our world. Each one plays it's own unique part in the overall picture. These world events do have an impact on our everyday lives and cause us to step back and take "a look at the outside world."

▸"Ollie" North, a hero, criminal, or man caught in the middle? Every American has their own view; however the nine women and three men found him innocent of all but three charges. He vows to fight until they too are dropped.

Photo: U.S. News & World Report, Oct. 30, 1989.

▲ The trauma created by "the great quake of '89" will not likely ever be forgotten by many Californians. Their usual busy routine was suddenly interrupted at 7:18 p.m. on October 17th. The earthquake, registering 6.9 on the Richter Scale, trapped cars, destroyed bridges, leveled houses, and tragically claimed over 100 lives.

▸ In late July tragedy stuck as United Airlines flight 232 was crippled by the loss of its flight control systems and was forced to make a crash landing at Sioux City, Iowa. Miraculously, 186 of the 296 passengers survived.

▸ As Christians, we believe that abortion is wrong, but others believe an unborn baby is not human or that the right to choose is up to the mother. For years the battle has swayed toward the opposition, but now the state and local governments have been given the responsibility of controlling the performance of abortions.

◂ Nature's delicate balance is so often ruined by man. Such was the case with the Exxon oil spill experienced by the inhabitants of the area known as the Prince William Sound, just off the southern coast of Alaska. The damage caused to the marine life and their environment is virtually immeasurable.

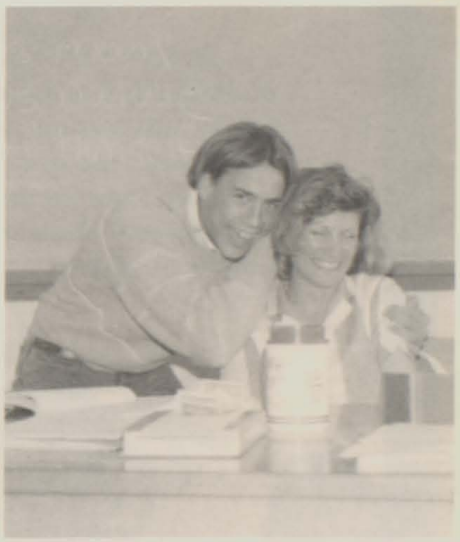
LOOKING INSIDE OUR SCHOOL

During school we usually see one aspect of the students. They basically appear to be studious. We hope you can catch a different glimpse of the student body as we try to capture a closer look at our school through academics, sports, and student life. It's the different aspects of each person's life that makes it so interesting to look not only on the surface of someone, but to dig just a bit deeper and get a closer look at how they really are.



As you thumb through this book, keep in mind that what you see isn't always what you get ..... Sometimes you just need to take

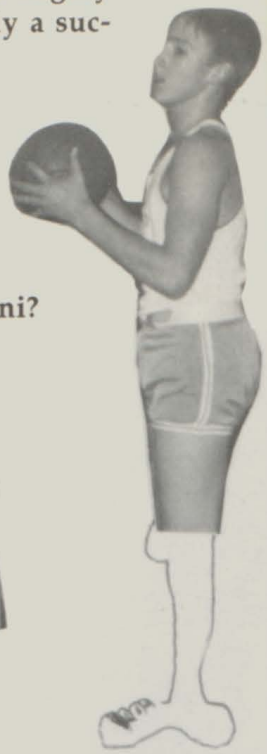
A CLOSER LOOK

LOOKING BACK AT PERSONALITY

◂Come on Julie, don't look so innocent!!

▾Looks sure can be deceiving!!

▸Jon's plastic sugery was obviously a success.



▾New fad Jenni?

▾"No, wait Tammy! It's connected!"

◂Yes, Kara did score an unmentionable 10 doing cartwheels at Grace.

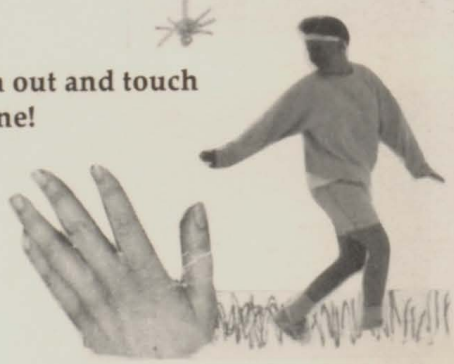
▸Very artistically expressive . . . but shy.

Everywhere you look, N.C. is full of delightful, unique, far-out and absolutely interesting personalities. There are always the quiet, dignified people, and then there're the wild, festive, very industrious characters. Can you tell which is which?

▾The old look of ravishing Nicole.

◂Shayne resorts to the potato head look.

▸Reach out and touch someone!



▸Believe it or not, Miss Lipke's hair is 38½ inches long.

◂It's a fact: Mrs. Ludden once worked in the Pentagon.

A school couldn't be a school without the people involved. Everywhere you look at N.C. you see people — varied from elementary students to the staff and faculty. It's the different types of people at our school that make N.C. such a unique place to be.

Every year most classes grow. Ours is the exception. With all our different personalities we've shown that size and numbers don't have to affect the spirit of the class. How would you describe the junior class of NC? Wild? Crazy? Maybe just a little weird? Any of these descriptions would definitely fit the class of "91". Sometimes people overlook the other side of my unique class, though. As a junior I see the other side every day. I see a very caring class who has a tight bond that started way back in our freshman year. This bond has grown through the years and continues to reach out to other members of our class who can't be with us. Friends . . . these pages are dedicated to our memories past, our memories yet to come, and lastly, to you . . . the class of "91".

SENIORS . . . .

We waited long for the year 1990, and it is finally here. It seems impossible that only two years ago other Seniors were telling us, "Don't worry, your Senior year will be here before you know it." Well, it DID come a little unexpectedly, but we weren't caught off guard. Plans for next fall are already being talked about, and more memories are made every day that each of us will remember. It's been a long and tough journey, but we finally made it, and we should be proud of ourselves. -Amy Ferris

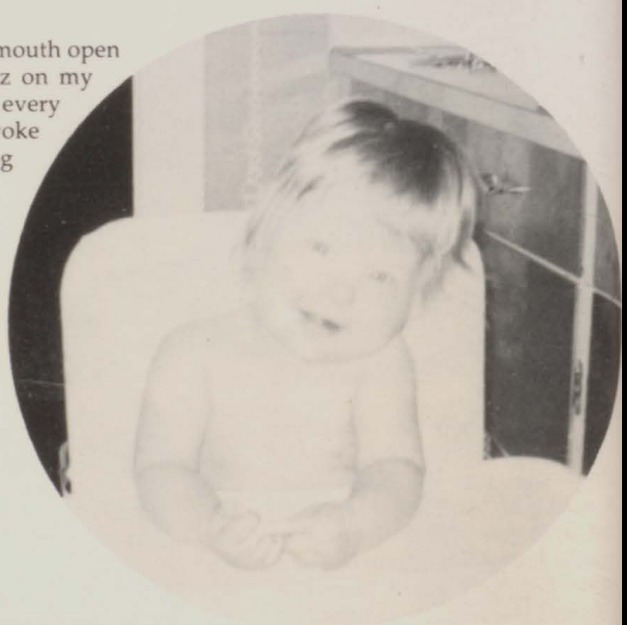
HOW EMBARRASSING !!!

"I was coming down the wooden stairs in the Ad. Building and was running because I was late for class and fell from the very top clear to the bottom. It made a really loud noise, and I screamed all the way down. Meanwhile, kids came out of the classrooms, and the teachers in the office all came and looked at me. It was terribly embarrassing."-Christi Elsberry

"I dropped my plate full of food in the cafeteria the first week I came to N.C."-Jody Hower

"I was asleep in a bus and had my mouth open and someone sprayed cheese whiz on my lips and stuck potato chips to it, and every one took pictures of me. When I woke up, the whole bus load was laughing at me."-
Jason Beck



That really bugs me . . .

Q:What is your pet peeve?

A:"Inconsistency"-Jody Cook
"Know it alls and teachers' pets"-Cheryl Dockweiler

▲Her laugh could wake the dead! -#9

As our final year in high school is drawing to a close, we take a "last look" at high school memories. We'll remember the laughter, the disagreements, the wet class parties, and how our class could never make decisions well. Lastly, and most importantly, the special friendships that were made will never be matched. Saying goodbye to our classmates will be hard, but knowing we have a common bond, the ties between our hearts will remain strong.

ONE LAST LOOK

1 Jason came to N.C. in 6th grade. He has a unique personality, ferrets, and a neon shirt.

2 The office has a special chair named in honor of Kevin Bowerman. HASTA LA PASTA, Kevin.

3 Jody LOVES brown nosers. (Goatus Ropus) and looks forward to rehabilitating them at Bethesda.

4 Cheryl originally comes from Hooper, Ne . . . (Hupper??) . . . and she loves track-especially the hurdles.

Here is where the road divides
Here is where we realize
The sculpting of our Father's great design.
Through time you've been a friend to me
But time is now the enemy
I wish we didn't have to say good-bye.
But I know, the road He chose for me
Is not the road He chose for you
But as we chase the dreams we're after,

Pray for me
And I'll pray for you
Pray that we will keep the common ground.
Pray for me

8 Amy wonders why the Cyclops only has one eye ...?? She won't take no Bull but from one particular person.

And I'll pray for you
And one day love will bring us back around,
Again

Painted on a tapestry
We see the way it has to be
Gleaming through the laughter and the tears.
But love will be the tie that binds us
Through the times we leave behind us
Memories will be our souvenirs.
But I know, that through it all
The hardest part of love is letting go
But there's a greater love that holds us ...

"Just like old times."

12 CLAYTON RICHARD KAI
— Aurora, Nebraska
"Oh well!"

13 KRISTEN FREDERICK KLEIN
— Wood River, Nebraska
"Wives submit yourselves unto your own husbands."

14 Julie excels in track and volleyball. However, her favorite sport is lifting weights in the weight room.

15 Angela Lantzer is the only person at NC that actually prays for snow and she loves to empty mousetraps.

16 Tim is very MOODY. (JOKE) He enjoys Jo and his pet peeve is cardiovascular enhancement . . . ????

17 Kirk sings "Old Times" with Chad, also likes the weight room, and wants you all to have a totally excellent, most triumphant life, dudes.

18 April always had a smile for you . . . until some containers knocked out her front tooth while she was doing her workjob.

14 JULIE KATHRYN KREMER — Aurora, Nebraska
"Some have brains and some have beauty. Fortunately, I have both."

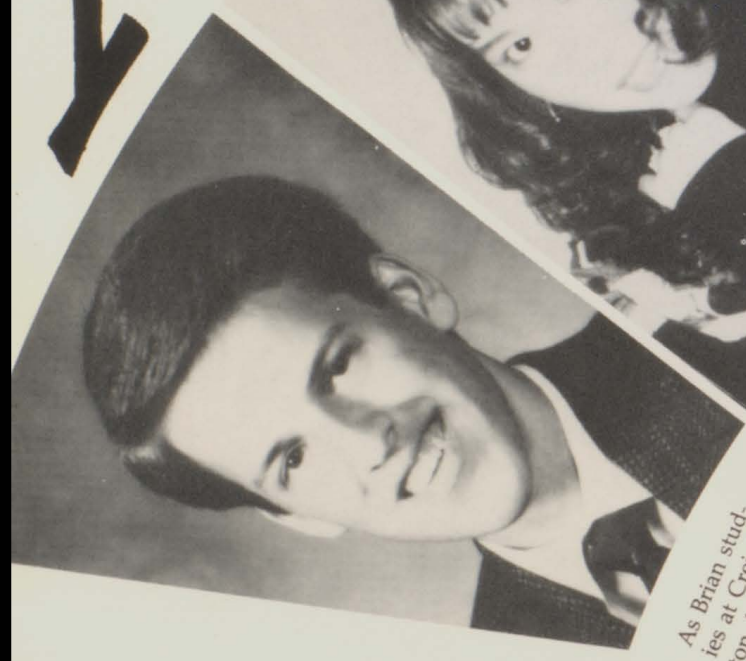
15 ANGELA FAITH LANTZER — Lewistown, Montana
"Women have problems, men have but two: everything they say, and everything they do."

16 TIMOTHY ALAN MOODY — Arcadia, Nebraska
"Trusting God is letting go when you are at the end of your rope."

17 KIRK MATTHEW NELSON — Cody, Wyoming
"Why do you take me for an immortal?"

18 APRIL LYNETTE OTTUN — Broken Bow, Nebraska
"God gives us dreams a size too big so that we can grow into them."

19



19 As Brian studies at Creighton, he'll predict fellow classmates grades and get 15% extra credit for it.

20 Junko is our Japanese model. If you hear a distinct, cute little laugh you know Junko is usually around.

21 Eric came to N.C. his junior year. He excels in Chemistry, and always has a smile and encouraging word.

22 Rod is our Wal-Mart man. He attended one semester this year, and will return to graduate with us in May.

19 BRIAN LEE POLAND — Grand Island, Nebraska
"Don't ask what you can do for your country, but what your country can do for you."

20 JUNKO SASAZAKI — Hatogaya, Saitama, Japan
"Be yourself-who else is more qualified?"

21 ERIC SCOTT SANDBERG — Hastings, Nebraska
"Tough times never last, but tough people do!!"

22 ROD MATTHEW TYLER — Grand Island, Nebraska
"If it's too loud, you're too old."

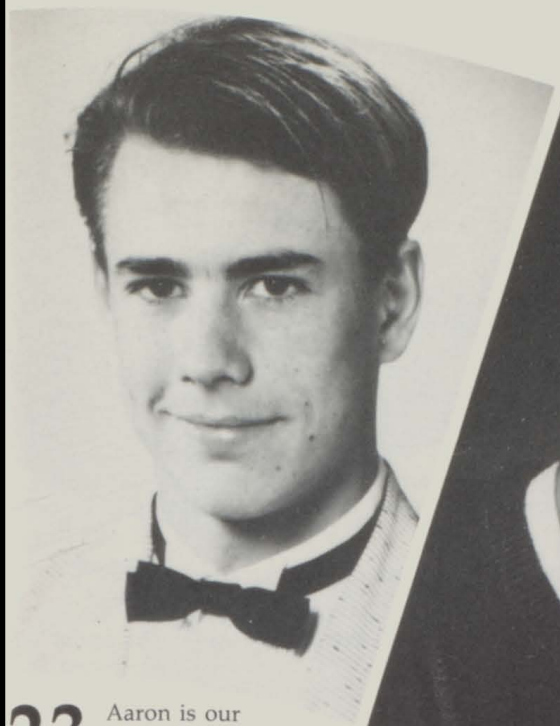
HOLD ON TO THE MOMENT

Single file and yet together,
We have shared our greatest days.
And we carry common memories
In different ways.

Though we don't know where we're going,
We will cherish where we've been.
I want to cry.
I want to shout . . .
Want to let this feeling out.

Hold on to the moment.
Let the feelings show.
Hold on to the moment.
Never let it go.

I can picture us together
With my arms around my friends.
Just let me hold on to this moment,
Before it ends.
There was laughter. There were tears,
Through the dozen golden years . . .



23 Aaron is our debator. He looks his best when he fashionably parts his hair in the middle with Amy.

24 Brian is our chiropractor. He thinks the Cornhuskers are awesome, and wonders who would ever want to live in Oklahoma???

25 Brian is a State track runner, likes to be "malled" by people, and is taking donations for his track trip to Czekoslovakia

26 Tammy is a living example of a TRUE cowgirl, and will be the first to patent her one-lens eyeglasses.

Because we are in a private school setting, our student life activities are a little different, which sets us apart from other schools. Being in the dorms provides an atmosphere of home away from home, and having chapels gives us spiritual food for thought. Since we have such diverse personalities of students, and we are different in many other ways, the style you see at N.C. gives us A LOOK ALL OUR OWN.

THE SOCIAL SET

The student council has been this year's social set, planning several fantastic events. The members , from left to right are: Doug Goertzen, Chad Sorensen, President Kristen Klein, Christy Urwiller, Sheri Reynolds, Heather Jones, Aaron Weeks, Mark Tyler, and Secretary Jody Cook. Leading up to this year's crowing event-Homecoming-were five fabulous days: Hats and Shades Day, Twins Day, Clash Day, Old Fogie Day, and Blue and White Day. PHILOSOPHY ON FASHION-by Kirk Nelson

I think people wear the clothes they do because it is what they like and what they feel comfortable in. It doesn't matter if what a person wears is in style or not. What matters is what they feel comfortable in because that will make them feel better about themselves.

If you take a "closer look" at NC you'll find something very unusual that most high schools don't have . . . dorms. To 39 students it's their "home away from home". Learning to adjust to this "home away from home", and to the schedule of dorm life is not always easy. Strangely enough though, the lessons of responsibility and leadership that can be taught often leave life-long impacts and, of course, memories.

WE LOVE MONDAYS

. . . JUST KIDDING

"The only sunrise many of us see is the Monday morning one."

MONDAY ..... UGH!

In talking about dorm life it would be impossible to omit the wonderful "Monday morning madness" many of them experience each week. Ask the Wolfendens how fun it is to "rise and shine" at 3:00 in order to get to school on time. I'm sure they'd tell you it's a real thrill ..... HA! "Monday morning madness" can be survived by these "weary travelers", but only if they're willing to get a little crazy. So, if you happen to be out on the highway between 3:00 and 9:00 am Monday morning and see an emotionally unstable kid making faces at you, don't call the State Patrol. It's probably just a dormer trying to cope with their case of "MONDAY MORNING MADNESS".

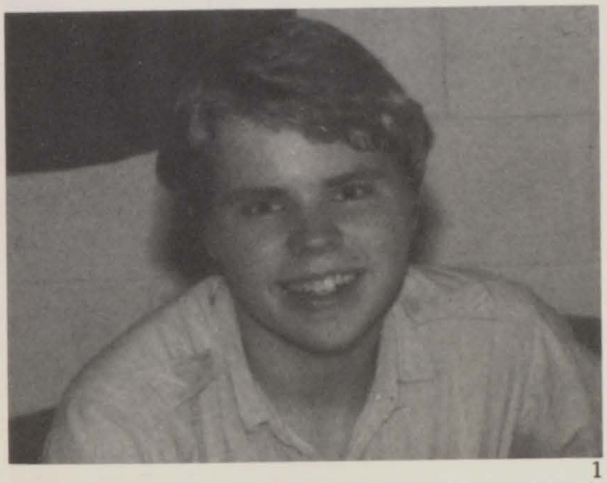
Finally ..... the end of the journey.

"And where would we be without luggage?"

20% have had a speeding ticket

20% have had warnings

60% have never been stopped



1

Dormers travel many miles to get to school and safety is definitely important. It's quite amazing how few wrecks NC dormers of the past and present have been involved in. Is it possible that even with "Monday morning madness" effecting them that they're still good drivers? Let's hope so!

CHAPEL SPEAKERS ... Sharing their gift.

The chapels this year were very unique. The speakers and performers brought across their messages in different and meaningful ways. Chapel was a time to relax and enjoy listening to fellow Christians share what was on their hearts.

▲Carpenter's Workshop brought a wonderful three days of drama, singing, and fellowship.

▲Vance and Julie Hardesty shared their missions burden.

▲Eldon Gillham brought us together for worship.

▲The Carpenter's Workshop give us their "hill-billy" parable.

▼Corky Harkins and his horse.

▼Mrs. Ritta singing during the Staff Chapel.

▲Brian Clark, our Spiritual Emphasis speaker.

As we look ahead to the future, we can reflect back on the different activities we had during the year: singing in the choir, being a class officer, cheerleading, participating in drama, or working on yearbook. These extra-curricular activities will help us in our future plans and in direction for our lives ahead.

DS FOREVER FRIENDS FOREVER

DEAR FRIEND
Seasons change
Days go by
People come
And people go
Though our paths
Lead us apart
They will meet
One day
I know
For I owe you
So much
Dear friend
For all those
Treasured times
For you've made me
A richer man
Having had you
In my life.

The road won't be lonely if we can say at the end: We walked the way together, hand and hand with a friend.

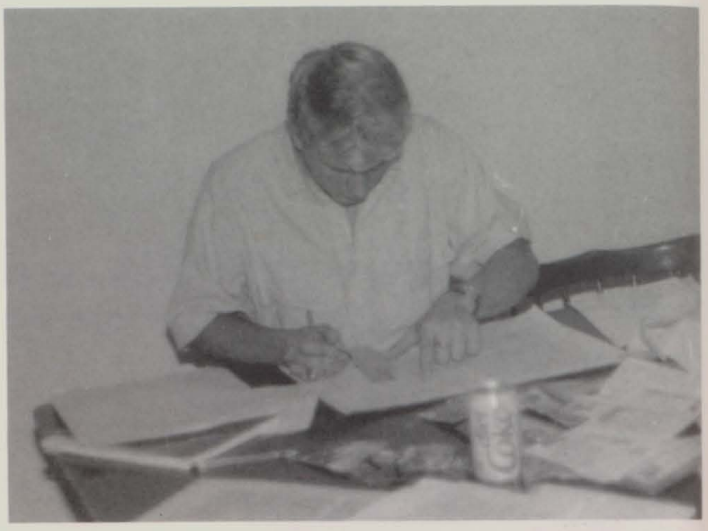
THE ART OF PROCRASTINATION

Time, dedication, patience, and pizza are a few of the things it took to put this yearbook together. Once again, the deadlines always came sooner than we expected, and we were caught with nothing done. Obviously we made it though (don't ask how long it took) because you are now holding in your hand a very priceless yearbook. We hope we have captured some memories that you will look back on and remember. And those of you that saw the Ad. building lights on at 11:00 at night will appreciate the hard work and effort that went into this yearbook.



M. PHERSON

Nobody was too pleased with the yearbook staff at Whatney High.

▴"Oh no, Miss Lipke. I just drew through six triplicates!"

▸Miss Lipke was once again the privileged one that got the responsibility of being yearbook advisor. Her job was to inspire people and help them get working for deadlines. She also answered questions, gave helpful advice , and met with the yearbook representative whenever he was around. Thanks for the hard work Miss Lipke, we appreciate you!

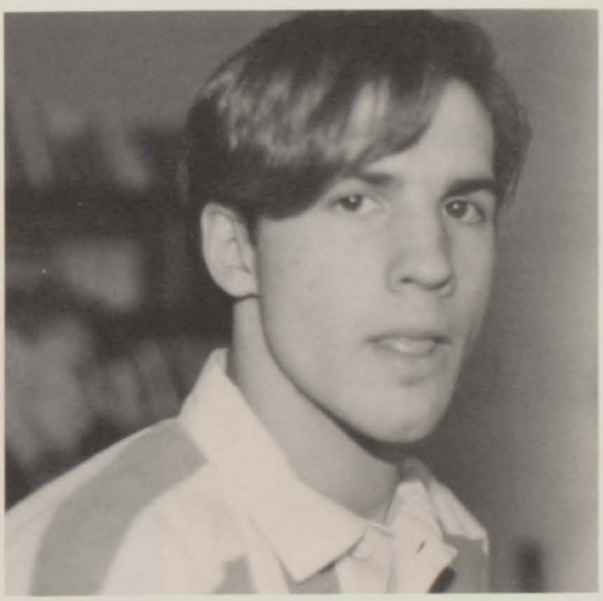
Take a Look Closer



THE ART OF DRAMA

▲"This little piggy went to market . . . "
◄"Don't worry, they'll only see the front of your hair."

The Drama group had a memorable year this year. They put on the play called "Sentenced To Life" for Conference and District contests, NC chapel, and also Campus Preview Day. They also performed some of The Carpenter's Workshop skits for churches and for the Harvest Festival. Throughout the year they put on skits for classes, wrote their own plays, learned to put on coats, walk up stairs, and close doors. Drama is a great class to learn how to be a fool in front of people.

▲"So it was YOU who put the shrinking powder in my coffee!!"

For your pleasure we have created a dot to dot design for you to finish. It would look best colored in black or purple, and worn on a Senior's head. Bye-Bye Underclassmen!!!

CONGRATULATIONS SENIORS!!!
Good Luck in your future.

A LOOK AT THE 日本 JAPANESE STUDENTS

MIHOKO YAMAZOE is from Oyamazaki, Chokyo-to, Japan. Mihoko loves animals and her favorite Japanese food is fish — DRY fish at that. America has had adverse affects on Mihoko, as seen above.

JUNKO SASAZAKI comes to us from Hatogaya City, Saitama, Japan. Her favorite Japanese male star is Tohihiko Tahara. Her favorite American actor is Tom Cruise. She loves clothing by Chanel, GAP, Gucci and The Limited.

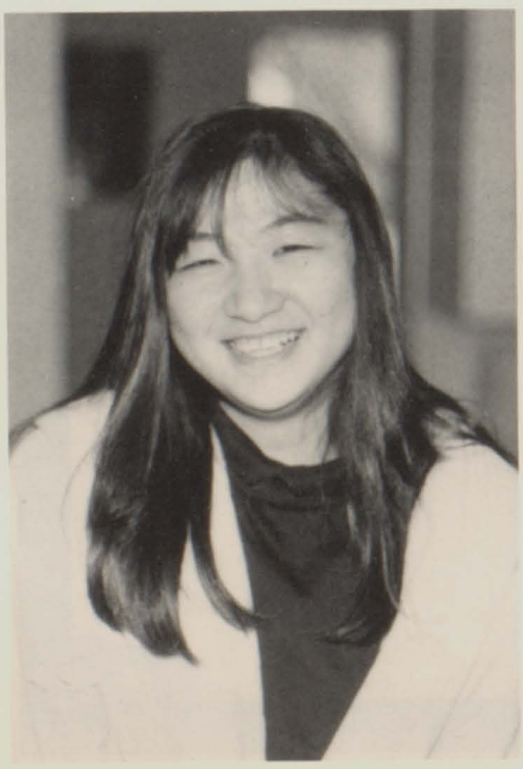
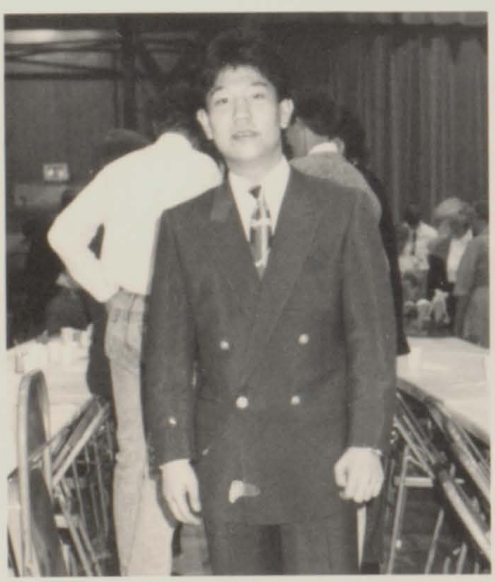
AKEMI WATABE is from Urawa City, Saitama, Japan. She is always giggling and enjoys watching sports events. Akemi's favorite food is (yes, you guessed it) . . . rice. Her favorite American TV show is Family Ties.

FUMIKO SEKINE likes misosoup and one of her favorite Japanese singers is Sing Sa Zan. Fumiko is from Funabashi City, Chiba, Japan. Her favorite thing about the U.S. is the friendliness of the American people. After school in Japan she enjoyed shopping or going to teahouses.





YOSHIRO KAWANO really enjoys travelling. He is from Sakai City, Osaka, Japan. He enjoys good American beef steak. Yoshi's favorite animal is the dog.

N.C had another exciting year athletically. The students gave their best in everthing they participated in. Football, volleyball, basketball, and track each provided time to get away from the stress of school work, and allowed students to broaden their social activity. Although we didn't have a perfect and absolute winning season, there was very much talent shown off, and spectators could see that in athletics, We've Got The Look.

Last Words from the Seniors

CHAD-"I'll never forget running the record relay with Coach Bremer."

KIRK-"I'm really glad I got to play football here at N.C. Even though we didn't have what some might call a winning season, I think we had a winning team because we had a good time and did our best." (The Hammer)

Brian-"During pre-season when we were doing a drill with Gregg Kermer, Chad crossed over his legs and Gregg slapped his helmet and almost knocked him to his knees. Chad never did it again."

Aaron-"You don't know who you are until you've been pushed to your limits. Once you know your limits, push them as far as you can. Football will do this for you!"

Kristen-"Good luck, Drew."

Jody-"It's been a real privilege to play with these guys. In my years of playing football here, I've never seen such good attitudes as this year. When we were down we never gave up. I thank God for the ability to play."

Tim-"Nothing brings people closer together like working together for a cause. The times we were the closest was on the field playing our hardest. I'll really miss playing football with the guys."

Clayton-"The thing I remember most is one day during a tackling drill when I hit Matt Seadore so hard he fell right on his back and layed there for five minutes. I'll never forget it."

CHRISTI ELSBERRY 5'5" VARSITY STARTER 2 YRS-"I think that our team unity has improved this year better than other years and I want to encourage the underclassmen to maintain good unity and respect for the others on the team. Try to encourage each other and don't tear each other down, because you can't have a team with fighting and discord. I will truly miss playing volleyball with the girls, and I'll never forget what I've learned through my four years in volleyball. Good Luck to next year's team."

AMY FERRIS 5'5" VARSITY STARTER 2 YRS-"The most valuable experience in volleyball this year was the positive attitude of our team. I don't think there was one pratice that went by that I didn't hear an encouraging word. It was the encouragement from others that gave me the desire to do my best and give 100%. Good Luck to the underclassmen-they have great potential."

JULIE KREMER 5'8" VARSITY STARTER 2 YRS.-"This year I think the unity of our team was good. We weren't just teammates, we were friends as well. Naturally, this improved our overall teamwork, and consequently, we had a winning season."

ANGELA HOPKINS 5'8"-"My greatest memory of volleyball this year was when I had the first successful block on a serve in this season. We had been sort of messing around in practice, trying to block each others' serves. When I did it successfully in the Marquette game, we were ALL very shocked, I was extremely excited, and it gave us the incentive to work harder on it in practice. It paid off, because we ended up having many successful blocks this season."

TAMMY WOLFENDEN 5'3"-"We really worked together as a team. It was alot of fun seeing everybody work so well with each other."

The 1989 Volleyball season was my fifth. Some things are always the same. Girls hate preseason practices, losing, and sitting on the bench. They love games, winning, and playing on the floor. Some things, though, are different, like the individual players. No one who was here during my first season was here for this one. Next fall, five more players will not return. We will remember them for they have taught us by their example. Their examples of skilled play on the floor, of graciousness when winning, and desire in every game will be models for us in years to come. Most importantly, though, their examples of selfless sacrifice while sitting on the bench, of their composure when losing, and of their desire in every preseason practice. After all, doing what we hate is always harder than doing what we like. Thanks, Seniors, and God bless you all. - Coach Dockweiler

"We will remember them, for they have taught us by their example."

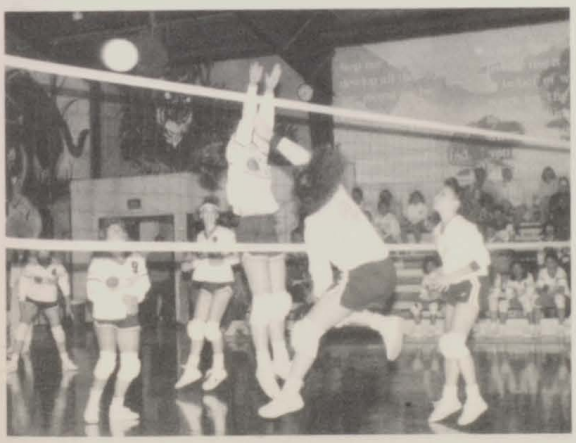
CRUSH . . . the opposition



Who will ever forget volleyball? I'm sure that if you asked any members of the NC volleyball team, they'd tell you they won't. Volleyball has brought out the best and the worst of us, but we know that we wouldn't trade any part of the season and it's "lessons" for anything. Having a winning season was one of the good memories that made our hard work worth the effort.

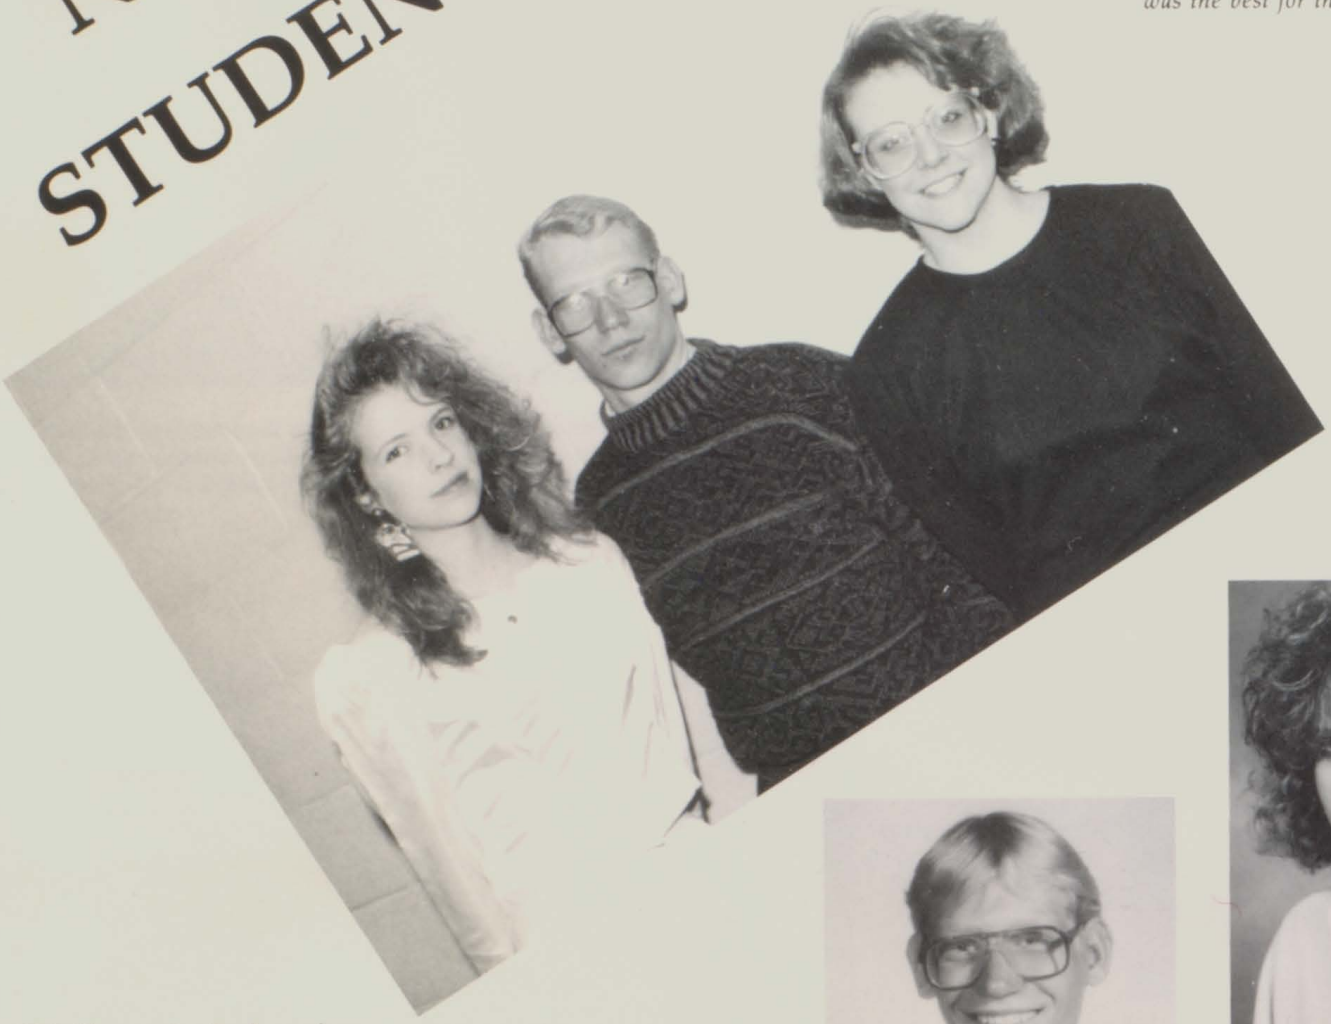
NEW STUDENTS

It takes great courage to switch schools in the middle of the year because it can be a hard adjustment, since everyone else is settled in and has their friends already. We trust these new students are happy with their transfer and hope that this school year was the best for them.



Chris Hanover is a freshman from Aurora. He came to NC January 22. Chris said he likes NC much better than public school because the students are much, much, friendlier. He likes living in the dorm, the guys are really nice, and he gets along with all of them. He has made a lot of good friends, and he is happy he came back to NC.

Jeff Gaasch, a junior from Broken Bow, came to NC because he wanted to get away from the peer pressure of public school, and he had lots of friends here. Jeff really enjoys the people and being in choir, and plans on returning next fall.

Talitha Anderson, from North Platte, is a sophomore. She came to NC January 2. What she likes about NC is that everyone is so close, and everyone gets along. She said there's a lot of acceptance here, and she thinks that is cool. She said the dorm is interesting, and it's fun because there is always someone to talk to, and her roommate is really neat.

Jana Breese is from Aurora, Ne. She is a 7th grader and came to NC Jan. 22. She had heard good things about the school and wanted to see what it was like. She's glad she came because she has made good friends. Jana commented, "Something different about this school is that everyone is really friendly. It doesn't matter who you are, or who you hang around with, people are still friendly to you."

Kristi McKillip came to NC January 16. She is a sophomore from Bridgeport, Neb. She decided to come to NC because she wanted to be in a Christian environment where people feel similar to the way she feels. She likes the way the teachers go beyond just teaching and care about what's going on in her life. When asked if she could see a difference between NC and public school, she replied, "Actually, they're similar, but the teachers are a whole lot better. I guess it's the Christian attitudes and friendly personalities, but I guess that makes the big difference."
